

ACCI Business Leaders Council Membership

Terms and Conditions

1. Membership Application

- These Terms and Conditions apply to membership of the Business Leaders Council, Australian Chamber of Commerce and Industry (ACCI).

2. Member Benefits

- Refer to Schedule of Benefits for your applicable membership category in the ACCI Membership Proposal 2023-24 (attached to your application).
- ACCI reserves the right to update and make change to these benefits at its discretion. Such changes will be made directly to the relevant membership product detailed at <https://acci.com.au/membership/>

3. Duration of Membership

- Membership of ACCI is subject to payment of an annual membership fee for a period of 12 months, unless otherwise notified.
- Annual membership commences on the date of acceptance of each membership application, unless otherwise agreed.
- Each renewal of membership is for a further period of 12 months, from the anniversary of the membership acceptance date unless otherwise notified.

4. Membership Fees

- The annual membership fee is a set fee based on the category listed on your invoice.
- You agree to pay the amount due on any membership fee invoice (original or renewal, including any amended invoice), within 30 days of the date of the invoice, unless you have entered into an arrangement to pay your annual membership fee by instalments.
- Annual membership fees are not refundable upon membership resignation.
- ACCI also reserves the right to pass on any additional costs it incurs in the collection of this outstanding debt including Debt Collection costs including Commissions, default interest of up to 2.0% per month and any legal costs that maybe incurred.
- Membership fees will be reviewed annually and may be subject to an increase at ACCI's discretion. You will be given written notice of any change to the annual membership fees at least 30 days prior to the date of renewal. You are deemed to have accepted such a change unless you give written notice of cancellation of your membership within 30 days of notice of the change to the annual membership fees.

5. Renewal and cancellation of membership services

- If you do not wish to renew or would like to opt out of your membership, you are required to provide ACCI a written notice of resignation of membership 30 days prior to the expiry of the current membership period.
- If such a written notice is not received, this will result in the automatic renewal of your membership for the following 12 months, along with the liability to pay the membership fee for that period.
- A written notice of resignation of your membership should be sent via e-mail to accounts@acci.com.au .

7. Fair use of information and advice

- You agree that any information or advice provided to you by ACCI is provided for the use of the member only, unless otherwise agreed. You agree not to use the information or advice for commercial resale or gain. You agree not to provide such information or advice to any third party for the use or benefit of the third party.
- You agree not to use your access to ACCI information and advice to obtain information or advice for the use of a third party.
- In the event the information or advice provided to you by ACCI, is provided to any third party, ACCI reserves the right to suspend or cancel the provision of further services to you until such time as it is satisfied that you have ceased to do so. No refund of any membership fee paid will be due upon such suspension or cancellation. Any unpaid membership fee will remain due and payable as a debt to ACCI.

8. Disclaimers

- ACCI is not liable for any loss or damage caused to a member due to the non-provision of membership services to that member as a result of the suspension or cancellation of such services to the member, or as a result of ACCI changing the services it provides, or no longer offering services in the exercise of its discretion.
- Information provided by ACCI and its employees, officers and agents is of a general nature only and is not legal, accounting, or other professional advice. While all reasonable endeavours are made to ensure the accuracy of information provided, ACCI accepts no liability for any action, or decision not to act, taken by you on the basis of the information provided to you, or for any error in or omission in the information provided by ACCI, or any loss or damage caused to you or any other person whether a member of ACCI or not, as a result of information provided by ACCI being inaccurate.
- Any information or advice given by a ACCI employee, whether over the telephone, in person or in writing, is based on the facts and information provided to the ACCI employee by the member. If incomplete or inaccurate information or facts are provided by the member, it may change the advice or information that would be given by the ACCI employee. ACCI accepts no liability for any action, or decision not to act, taken by you on the basis of the information or advice provided to you, or for any error in or omission in the information or advice provided by ACCI, or any loss or damage caused to you or any other person whether a member of ACCI or not, as a result of information or advice provided by ACCI being inaccurate.
- ACCI urges you to obtain advice from an appropriately qualified professional before acting, or deciding not to act, based on the information or advice provided by ACCI, its employees, officers, and agents.

9. Changes to ACCI's Terms & Conditions or Schedule of Benefits

- You agree that ACCI may change these terms and conditions at any time.
- ACCI agrees to publish any change to its terms and conditions on its website. ACCI terms and conditions as published on its website apply until the date of any change to the terms and conditions published on the ACCI website.
- You agree that ACCI may change the schedule of benefits at any time.

10. Notices

- You agree that ACCI may communicate with you by e-mail, including any notices regarding your membership, membership fees, renewal or ACCI services, using the e-
